Supervisor Antonovich made the following statement:

“The Chief Administrative Office, Office of Workplace Programs, which puts on the annual County Volunteer-of-the-Year Awards and Recognition Luncheon, is coordinating the annual wrap-up luncheon and network meeting. This event is for departmental coordinators and other volunteers, and will be held on Thursday, September 9, 2004, at the Music Center, from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

“The program will include presentations on the County’s volunteer liability insurance and best volunteer practices used in the government workplace. Certificates of commendation also will be presented to outstanding departmental volunteer coordinators.

“Last year, approximately 45 County and Superior Court departmental volunteer programs reported 3.7 million donated hours with a value of $62 million dollars. This was a tremendous contribution to the County during challenging fiscal times.

“The departmental volunteer program coordinators and directors network fulfills the County mission ‘to enrich lives through caring and effective service’ by promoting and administering best practices for County volunteers.”
